Steven F. Stock posted:

Madeleine was one of the best cribbage players I have ever know and we spent countless hours playing. It was one of her favorite activities. She was married to my father William S. Stock from July 1997 to August 2005 and they had a beautiful and happy marriage of eight years. I have a digital interview I did with her on May 7th 2008. I would be delighted to share that interview with anyone who requests a copy. In that interview, she indicated that she graduated from UCLA with a Bachelor's in education. She did take music courses at UCLA but she did not have a degree in that discipline. Also, she was mostly a self taught artist. She was one of the most generous and charitable people I have ever known. My father was her 3rd husband. Her first husband was Harold Chisholm and her second was Thomas Voodrey who both preceded her in death. She was the most optimistic person I have even know and I will miss her infectious smile and laughter for all the rest of my days. All my love always. Steven F. Stock
