I met Perry "James" Lee when I became friends with his son many years ago. We very quickly became friends and it wasn't long before I was calling "James" dad and he was calling me son. He and his entire family took me in as a member of their family. We spent many nights gathered around the dining room table or out back in his son's apartment playing games and just having a lot of family fun. In the summer of course was the hot tub and the pool and cookouts. I think the one thing that stands out most for me is the way that "James" was always there for his family and friends, always helping out where he could. "Dad", I'm so fortunate to have been a member of your family...you are what a loving father should be and you will be missed by many.
