Edwina Mullins posted:

Trish, I will miss you forever, The memories we had as children will always be with me some were funny and some were typical sister stuff but most of all we had a fun and great childhood. Many memories of you growing up, having children and then becoming a grandma and most of all becoming a child of God are the best of all. Stayed with you through all your illnesses and you fought thru them but God decided he needed you more so he took you home. That is a blessing but we here still hurt when we think of you but are joyful knowing you're with mother, Ronnie, little Jimmy, Becky, Robin, aunt Doris and many more God called home. What a joyful reunion that is and no more pain. Love you and miss you. God is good.
